Fluorescein Angiography

KEY POINTS

• Use a requisition form to eliminate confusion by enhancing communication.

• Advocate and document informed consent.

• Have an emergency medical kit readily available, and inspect its contents on a regular schedule.

• Perform color photography first.

• The filling stages of a fluorescein angiogram are the choroidal flush, followed by the arterial, early venous, full venous, and late phases.